

MUSIC SYMBOLS REVIEW

In the language of music there are basic signs and symbols designed to help the singer or instrument player. Just like road signs by the highway, these music signs tell you what to do and when to do it when playing or singing.

MUSIC DETECTIVE:

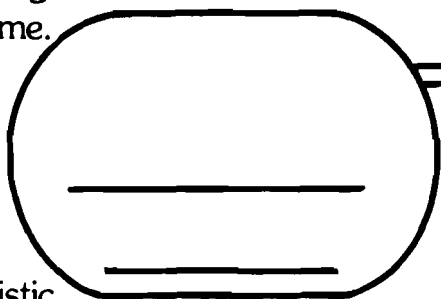

Read the clues beside each sign to guess its missing name.

Strategy:

1. Write the correct name of each music symbol described below in the space provided.
2. Choose your answers from the music symbol list below.

MUSIC SYMBOL LIST:

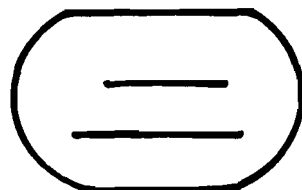

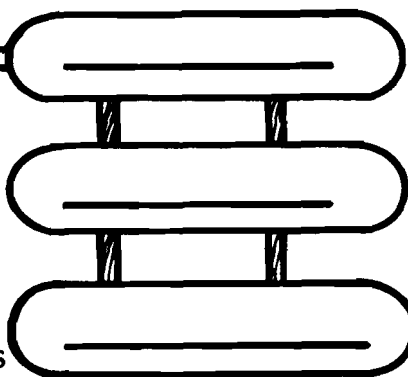

staff double bar line measure
bar line treble repeat sign bass alto note clef sign

I'm the artistic looking drawing at the beginning of the staff.

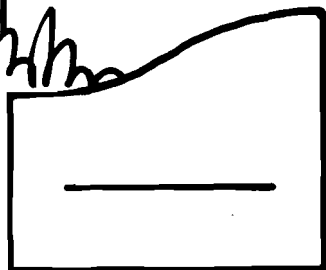

All of us belong to the clef family.

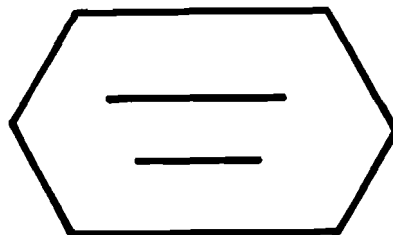

I divide the staff into equal parts

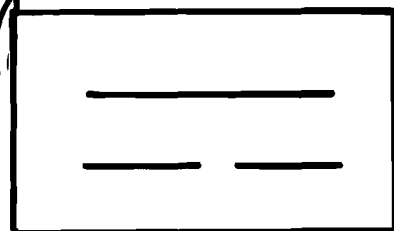

I'm the space between the bar lines.

I'm the lines and spaces on which music is written.

I tell singers and players to do that part of the song over again.

I tell singers and players to stop. This is the end of a song or section.
